

2022 CHARDONNAY SANGIACOMO ROBERTS ROAD VINEYARD

ABOUT

Planted in 1999, Roberts Road Vineyard lies in the newly designated (2017), yet long revered, Petaluma Gap AVA. We have produced a Sangiacomo Roberts Road vineyard designate Pinot Noir from these respected family growers since 2012, and in this 2022 vintage produced our first vineyard designate Chardonnay. For nearly half the day the vineyard is shrouded in fog and also influenced by coastal breezes, lending itself to slow, even growth and fruit development. The blocks of Chardonnay we source are from the base of Sonoma Mountain on the western side and feature well-draining, silty gravel soils.
